What is a U-Visa?

A U-Visa is set aside for victims of certain crimes who have suffered mental or physical abuse and are helpful to government officials during the investigation and/or prosecution of the case. The U-Visa was intended to assist law enforcement agencies with the investigation of the crime while also allowing the law enforcement agencies to better serve the victims.

Eligibility

You may be eligible for a U-Visa if:

- You are the victim of a qualifying crime;
- You have suffered severe physical or mental abuse as a result of the crime;
- You have information about the crime;
- You were helpful, are helpful or will be helpful during the investigation and prosecution of the case;
- The crime occurred in the U.S or U.S territory;
- You are admissible to the U.S.

Qualifying crimes include but are not limited to: domestic violence, homicide, sexual assault, stalking, and other related crimes.

What is a T-Visa?

A T-Visa is set aside for certain victims of severe forms of human trafficking who are helpful to law enforcement in the investigation and prosecution for the case. The T-Visa was designed to offer protections to victims while also assisting law enforcement agencies with the investigation of the crime. Under Federal Law, “severe forms of human trafficking” are considered the following:

- Sex Trafficking
- Labor Trafficking

Eligibility

You may be eligible for a T-Visa if:

- You are or were a victim of human trafficking;
- You are in the United States or any other area as defined by the federal government under their guidelines;
- You comply with reasonable requests from any law enforcement agency for assistance with the investigation and prosecution of the case;
- You demonstrate there would be a severe hardship if you were removed from the United States.

Role of Law Enforcement

Once you apply for a U-Visa (through an attorney or on your own), Supplement B forms will have to be completed by law enforcement (I-918B for U-Visa or I-914B for T-Visa). When certifying these forms, the Camden County Prosecutor’s Office will look at the eligibility requirements set forth under the guidelines. If all requirements are met, the certifying official will sign the Supplement B forms and attach supporting documentation such as:

- Major Incident Report
- Supplemental Report
- Victim Notification Form
- Complaint
- Indictment

The certifying official can only verify what is listed in the reports and supporting documentation. Additional documents such as hospital paperwork and counseling documents can be included in the overall U-Visa or T-Visa application.
